

- Buzzi Unicem recognizes the importance of the efforts made by the international community to limit climate changes.
- Upholding the prevailing opinion of the scientific community which attributes global warming due in part to greenhouse gas emissions, and carbon dioxide (CO₂) in particular, Buzzi Unicem monitors its emissions and reports the data in absolute and specific terms in the Sustainability Report.
- In line with the objectives established by the international climate protocols, Buzzi Unicem is committed to reducing its CO₂ emissions. Following the Paris Agreement of December 2015, this commitment was extended to all the countries in which the Group operates.
